The Warehouse Community Arts Center is temporarily closed to the public until at least May 26th as we continue to follow the recommendations of the Wisconsin department of health officials. We understand that the situation with Coronavirus, or COVID-19, continues to evolve. The wellbeing of our community is of the utmost importance. Although we are temporarily closed, it is important to us to continue our mission and to bring joy to our community through the arts during this difficult time. Keep reading to stay up to date on our April activities and our hopeful schedule of activities we have planned for the summer.

Warehouse Updates

Online Art Activities

During our temporary closure, we are posting an art related activity you can participate in from home each day on our website and Facebook page. The activities range from virtual museum tours, live music performances and concerts, coloring pages, and much more! We share a wide variety of activities that are suitable for all ages. Be sure to check them out!

To view the at-home art activities page on our website, visit this link: <https://eagleriverart.com/new/at-home-art-activities/>

Public Art

LIVE @ Inspiration Bar

Each Friday through May, we will be live streaming an online version of Open Mic Lab from our Facebook page at 7pm. This event is dedicated to the experimental performance of all things creative including, but not limited to: comedy, film, music, poetry, storytelling, and theater. We are asking interested performers to please send video clips of their performance to info@eagleriverart.com.

Lifelong Learning

Yoga and Pilates

Yoga with Tricia Schwaba: livestreams every Wednesday at 9:30am.

Available on our Facebook page!

Arts and Aging

Story of the month!

Please enjoy the story and illustration below, "Puppy Love", created by TimeSlips participants in our Arts and Aging program.

Thank you to our Arts and Aging sponsor, Northwoods United Way!

Puppy Love

The dog's name is Duke and the cat is Fluffy. They are at the vet. Duke is a puppy and he needs his shots. He has never seen a cat before and he is giving the cat a once over.

The owner is holding the leash to get the cat away. The owner is terribly afraid that the cat will pounce on little Duke. But Duke is not afraid at all. The cat is just warning Duke: "Don't go in there. They will give you a shot!" But Duke is not afraid. He is just a baby and a pound puppy. He is not afraid because he wants love from everybody including the cat and the vet. Duke trusts the cat, but cats are really sneaky. Never trust a cat! Duke doesn't know that cats are no good and they become friends. The owner is very happy and adopts the cat too.
